ONE ON ONE . . . the meaning goes much deeper than the words. Baptist College has many different types of relationships. Through these relationships, strong bonds of friendship form.

At Baptist College, friendships are made that will last forever. Students know each other on a "one-on-one" basis. Each year gives rise to a new opportunity to meet another class of students. Freshmen are greeted with open arms by the upperclassmen. By the end of the year, everyone has formed friendships and the memories that accompany them.

Students of Baptist College are very fortunate to have a concerned, hard-working faculty and staff. From the beginning, professors welcome students and are interested in their career goals. The administrative staff is always ready to lend a helping hand. The maintenance workers spread happiness wherever they go. Together, the staff makes attending college an enjoyable experience.

Individuality is perhaps the greatest aspect of Baptist College. Because the school is small, students have ample opportunities to express themselves. Each person is known by name, not by a computer number. The assets of attending a small, personal college greatly outweigh being "just another face in the crowd" at a large university.

The main reason for attending college is, of course, to complete another phase of education. College bridges the gap between childhood and adulthood. Students become prepared mentally, as well as physically, for the world ahead of them. It gives them the opportunity to begin a "one-on-one" correspondence with the outside world. After completing college, students are ready to accept the challenge of life that lies before them.

At Baptist College, relationships grow far more than friendships. Everyone involved becomes a part of a wonderful family. Whether we realize it or not, we all grow together as brothers and sisters, blossoming under God, our Father. Every student leaving Baptist College goes with the memories of a very special part of his or her life. Hand in hand with their well-deserved degrees, graduates will have many "one-on-one" relationships that they will remember forever.

No matter what race, color, or religion anyone may be, we are all equal in our Baptist College family. The very special bonds of love that are formed will be cherished in each and every student's heart. Everyone at Baptist College fits together as one big, happy family.

ONE ON ONE

CHARLESTON . . . a romantic city by the sea, rich in history, and alive with beauty and entertainment.

For the young in age or the young at heart, Charleston offers moonlight strolls along the beaches dotted by unpretentious lighthouses.

A walk along the inner city streets would lead to the slave market setting, busy with souvenir sales. To slow the pace, a quick stop at Swensen's Ice Cream Parlor offers a refreshing treat. Then on to such landmarks as the Battery, Rainbow Row, and the Dock Street Theatre, where history speaks out.

Little known, but highly significant, are the four Corners of Low at the intersection of Meeting and Broad Streets. The Low of God, the Low of Country, the Low of County, and the Low of City are represented. Also not to be forgotten, just outside the heart of the city, the many gardens are waiting to welcome thousands of visitors each year. Comoros can easily capture the colorful backdrop settings to keep memories alive. Romance, history, and entertainment ... how can you separate one from the other, when they all spell CHARLESTON.

... PLACES

ONE ON ONE

PEOPLE... a rainbow at Baptist College. Students came from all over the world to enter a new experience in life. The majority of students at BCC have grown up in South Carolina, while some people travel many miles from their homes. The international students deserve special recognition for leaving their families and customs to start a new adventure at Baptist College.

The students at BCC enthusiastically participate in many different clubs. The members of the Baptist Student Union share fun and fellowship together. In the different fraternities and sororities on campus, students become "brothers and sisters" in a lifetime of memories.

People come to Baptist College with many different educational goals. They also possess many different talents. Some can sing, some are intellectually gifted, and some have excellent leadership potential.

The color of Baptist College is enhanced by its wide variety of people. As a rainbow shines across the sky, BCC has found its pot of gold in its people and their dreams for tomorrow.

... PEOPLE

ONE ON ONE

PAST . . . it reaches out for you across the years. One can not help but look back and remember the beginnings and the ends, the friendships formed, and the lives that were touched. All of the memories come flooding back, and you wonder . . . how did what I recall from yesterday turn into today? Baptist College began as a dream of the Baptist Convention and of Dr. Homrick in 1965, and slowly that dream become reality. From 500 acres of wooded land, a college was born. Enrollment started with 500 students and 15 full-time teachers. The classes were held in the Education Building of the First Baptist Church of North Charleston, while construction began on the campus northwest of Charleston.

Looking back, you see how everything worked together to form a special unity and bond throughout the campus. Traditions were started, clubs were formed, and memories were made.

The school has changed and grown, and the spirit of the students has grown with it. Baptist College has evolved into a college with a hope for the future.

... PAST

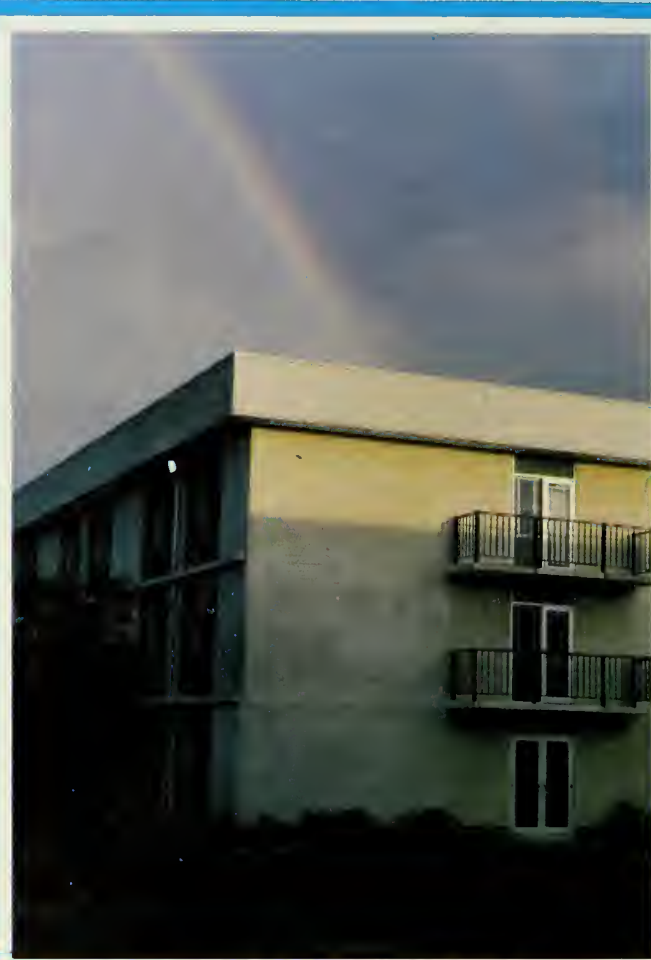

ONE ON ONE

PRESENT . . . it is here now and inviting you to take part. Yesterday is past and tomorrow is out of reach, but today is available.

Today, Freshmen are new, scared, and excited; Sophomores, odjusted and prepared Juniors, ready for the Senior year; and Seniors, content and happy. All are eager to live today for all it is worth.

Today flowers bloom all over; today the reflections of the solar panels reach to the sky; today apposite sides of Lake Bagwell are joined by a new bridge; and today, as in the past, our beautiful sunsets are warming everyone's hearts.

Today is here; Baptist College is ready. We are growing, and even as present becomes past, the beauty of the present will remain the beauty which is Baptist College.

... PRESENT

1982 MAY DAY

Spring is a time for flowers and beauty. Baptist College selected the month of May to show forth the beauty here on campus. This special ceremony began with the processional of the selected attendants: Shoran Besseche, Myra Campbell, Lisa Horris, Vicki Heiser, Dorcas Herring, Celeste Kellum, Kathy Kiesel, and Lee Ann Mullins. May Queen was Mally Brawn and her Maid of Honor was Rabin Brown. Music was provided by the Jazz Band, Becky Watson, and Dr. Curtina, who sang a sala in hanar of the Queen. Six children delicately wrapped the Maypole as students, parents and faculty together enjoyed this special celebration of spring.

OUR REIGNING QUEEN

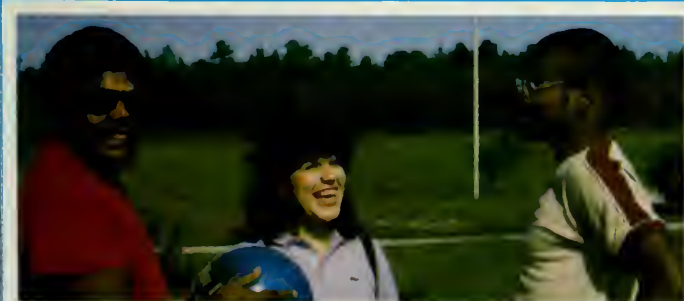

STUDENT LIFE

AT BAPTIST COLLEGE

1 on 1 ORIENTATION

Orientation served as a chance for Freshmen and Upperclassmen to get acquainted. Headed by Tim Lawing and Marshall Ives, the Orientation Committee provided such activities as Fair Play, a dance, a Watermelon Curring, The President's Reception, a Tour of Charleston and a fireworks display. All of these events were geared towards making the Freshmen and transfer students feel at ease, and it gave them an opportunity to make friends in fun, exciting ways.

Fireworks light up the sky . . .
In celebration of the new year.

Baptist College faced its students in 1982-83 with a plunge toward the future. The campus began to be "refaced" with the construction of the new chapel, solar energy for the dorms, and an all-around new look for the future. The new school year began with excitement and promised a great year for anxious students, and BCC campus reflected both the excitement and the promise.

ACTIVITIES OF THE

1982-83 SCHOOL YEAR

STUDENTS LEARN IT'S

When it comes time to do some serious studying it seems there's always something else you'd rather be doing. And there's always a day that's rainy or too cold when going to class seems senseless and crawling back in bed is the logical alternative.

NOT ALL FUN AND GAMES

So often when people talk about their college days they don't mention the grind of endless books to be read and assignments to be turned in. Whether pleasant or not, learning is what college is all about.

HOMECOMING — A NIGHT OF

It was the big night everyone had waited for — Homecoming. The first half of the basketball game was filled with excitement and mounting tension. Thirty lovely girls were vying for the honor of being Homecoming Queen: Anne Marie Bishop, Sigma Kappa Alpha; Deb Brittain, Alpha Rho Omega; Michelle Brawn, Student National Education Assoc.; Tammy Butts, Senior Class; Myra Campbell, Alpha Phi Omega; Denise Camer, Phi Delta Chi; Tracy Campran, Tri Psi Chi; Angela Crauch, Freshman Class; Deborah Craut, Art Club; Dee Dee Davenport, Psi Delta Phi; Renee Evans, American Chemical Society; Susan Ferenz, Tau Kappa Alpha; Linda Gamez, Young Democrats; Lisa Kaye Hearan, Cutlass; Gregory Hill, ICC; Angie Hinsan, FCA; Andrea Hopkins, Alpha Phi Alpha; Pam Harron,

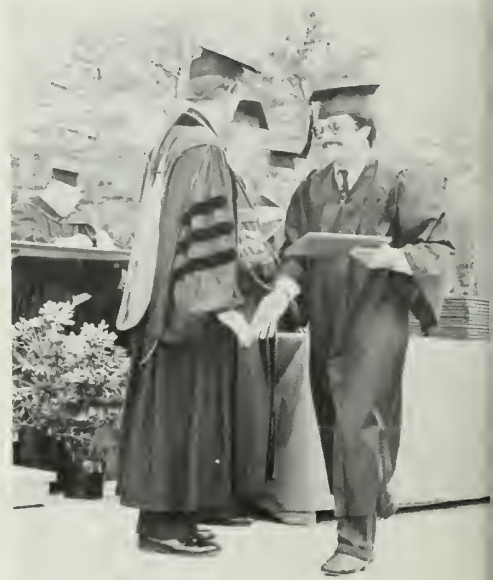

EXCITEMENT AND MEMORIES

348 STUDENTS BEGIN

LOOKING FOR JOBS

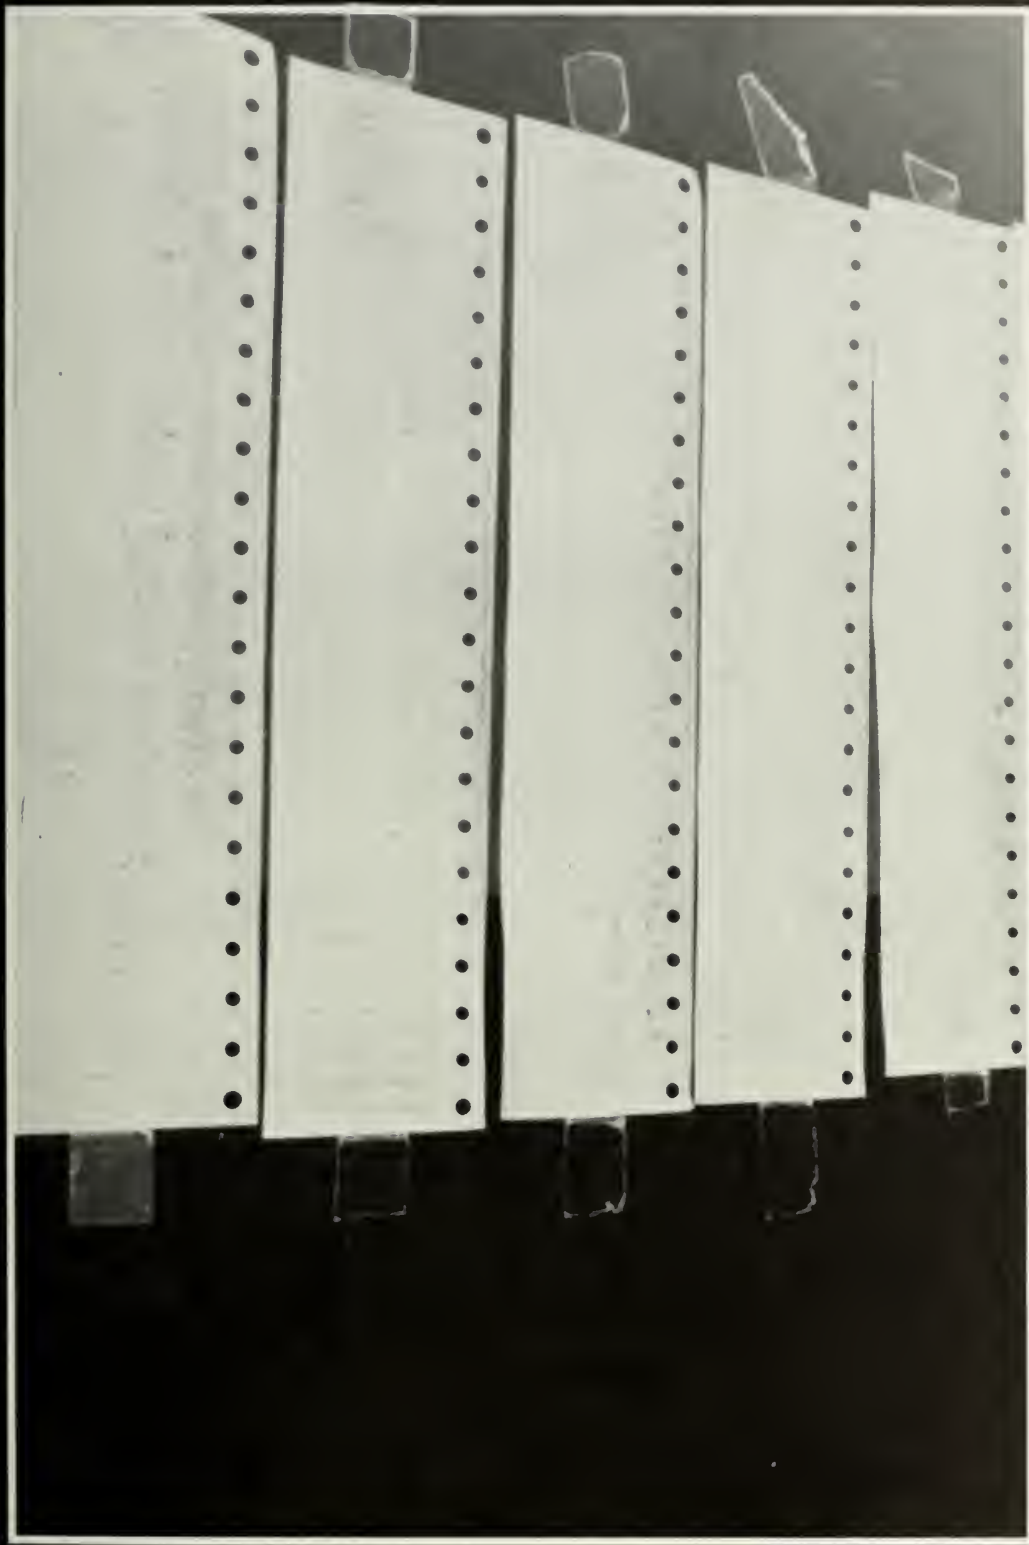

Faculty — They heap homework on us in class, give tests at every opportunity and take roll only on the days we miss.
Staff members — They show us to the proper lines, graciously hand us our bills and accept our checks.
BUT — These people shape our lives like few will ever have the chance to do again.

The faculty molds our thoughts and helps form our ideals for the future. They take our embryonic thoughts and make us look inside ourselves for the answers. From them comes our knowledge of the classics and views of the world.

The staff members have taught us the meaning of true dedication. They listened when no one else would, and truly showed their caring. They taught us patience and the meaning of "grace under pressure." Faced with their own paperwork and deadlines, they stopped to help us with our own problems.

Baptist College is small enough that forming close friendships with faculty and staff members is relatively simple and is usually encouraged. We've come to see the human side of these people, and in doing so, we've learned to respect them.

GROUNDS/MAINTENANCE

Changes are a regular part of any student's life. Each year that a student progresses toward graduation is another step in the transition stage of life beyond college.

Students arrive at college as Freshmen, full of ideals and dreams. They've set goals for themselves and are starting the long, often frustrating road they must travel to meet these goals. During the years those goals will change, but most students meet the challenge head on. Their naive spirit is replaced by maturity, and boldness by humility. They realize what it's like to again be on "the bottom of the totem pole," and this itself is accepted as a challenge to strive forward.

Sophomores and Juniors often wonder if they'll ever finish college. Sophomores suffer through choosing majors, and Juniors are distressed at changing majors. Juniors feel as if they're on the "other side of the hill," while Sophomores are just beginning to climb. The basic courses are almost complete and the more demanding, but more satisfying, courses can be taken. The responsibilities pile up but so do the emotional rewards.

Seniors spend their last year looking both forward and backward. They are storing up memories for future reference and making plans for their new lives. They've reached a point where they know their own limitations. Some begin to feel as though the whole process is starting over. They are once again at a place of change, and they're unsure but idealistic.

CHANGE — It happens to everyone.

THE BAPTIST COLLEGE AT CHARLESTON

INDIVIDUALS

SENIORS

Four years worth of classes, rests, and activities are drawing to a close. We, as Seniors, look back constantly at this last year and try to capture moments we want to remember forever.

There are mixed feelings of happiness and confusion mingled with cases of "senioritis." The goal of a college degree has been achieved, but by meeting that goal, we are leaving behind all that we have held dear for so long.

We continually strive onward, seeking new goals, content with our past and happy with our memories of college life and the influence it will always wield in our lives.

Seniors — a final chapter in one sense, but it is the opening of a lifetime ahead. Challenges face us as we strive to make a go of it in an inflationary and unemployment-stricken world. Yet, with great minds and preparation, we eagerly step into the world with high expectations, knowing that we are our own limitations!

JUNIORS

As a Junior we have reached a constant state of anticipation. We've succeeded in forming the base of our college education. We have chosen a major and moved in active pursuit of that goal. In one more year we will have the long desired degree in hand.

For the present, we'll attend classes, enjoy the lifetime friends we've acquired, and dream of the day when we'll reach the status of Senior. We've given a lot of time and effort to this college, and the end result has been a true feeling of belonging.

We faced 1983 with great anticipation; we'll face 1984 with that same anticipation mixed with fear! We look forward to our last year at BCC but secretly feel the gnaw of the reality of life in our stomachs.

Juniors — one step away from ending our college careers. We seek to prepare for what lies ahead of us. Each day brings new awareness of the pressures of life itself. Maybe we will fail in our endeavors to achieve, or maybe we will make it. We can only strive for the best and give it all we have!

SOPHOMORES

"Sophomore Slump" is a common ailment in this class. We've all begun to wonder if college is the only kind of life that exists. Classes seem interminable, basic courses seem endless, and graduation is only a fantasy in our minds.

There are some advantages to being a Sophomore. We've finally got the campus, with its many offices, figured out. And though we'll never grow accustomed to the long lines, at least we know to expect them.

But there is a lot to look forward to. Next year is our year to plan, and attend, the Junior-Senior. And the following year, when we're a little higher up the ladder, we'll start doing things our way, to make this college a better place for everyone.

Yes, being a Sophomore may be dull now, but our minds jostle with eagerness as we anxiously await our turn as Juniors and Seniors. It won't be long now, and we'll be the leaders of BCC . . . leaders of change, freshness, and a better look for ourselves and our campus.

FRESHMEN... CLASS OF 1986

Some say Freshmen can be spotted a mile away. We have an air of expectancy and confusion about us. We're frustrated by the lines, irritated by the upperclassmen's attitudes toward us, but, above all, we're ready to make an impression.

This college is our second home for the next four years, and we want to make it a place we can be proud of. We will do all we can to make it better.

Divided by the thrill of being out from under our parents' wings and the agony of being under the wings of professors, we still aren't sure whether we will stick it out or not. One thing is certain, being a Freshman is a lonely world, and it will not be soon enough before it is over.

FRESHMEN 1986 FRESHMEN

Clubs and organizations are an important part of any student's life. They aid in establishing relationships, developing rapport with others, and working side by side for a common goal. They also encourage the growth of attributes that aid in life after college, the most important of which is leadership.

Leadership — that elusive and enigmatic quality that everyone tries to attain during their life. Leadership is based on unselfish motives, a genuine affection for the work at hand, and confidence in oneself and others. Maintaining cooperation in others while retaining their friendship and respect is a true art.

Other than just being a learning experience, clubs are pure fun!! They offer interesting activities that no class ever could. Friendships made are based on similar ideals, and relationships like that are made to last!

Bucs

Hard work and determination are two characteristics that stand out when describing this year's cheerleaders. With only three returning members, they had to start from scratch and build. But build they did, with the talents of ten women, five men, and one mascot.

They practiced long and hard under David Carter's leadership to become a solid unit, full of enthusiasm, destined to become one of our best squads ever.

There were four seniors on the team, all true assets who will be sorely missed.

This year the Baptist College Basketball Team can truly be called the "Traveling Bucs." They had a rough schedule facing such national powers as Oklahoma and Clemson.

Coach Carter is now in his third year as basketball coach. Under his direction the team has shown immense improvement. Last year's final record of 13-13 was their best since the 1972-73 season. For the first time, the basketball team traveled to Wisconsin to play in the Greenbay Classics.

In seventeen years of competition, the Baptist College Track team has never had a losing season. Last year they ended the season with nine wins and four losses.

This year we may see the best track team ever. The team is extremely young, with only three juniors and three seniors. However, this team has many outstanding men of the national caliber rank. They have a tough, demanding schedule, but they work hard and are willing to do their best.

The lack of tennis facilities on campus has been an extreme disadvantage, but four new courts are being built, and it is hoped that this will help a great deal. Both teams have shown improvement and are expected to continue to do so.

Intensive, continuous training that seems to last forever instead of hours — sore, tired muscles that scream for a rest — thoughts that drift ahead to the next game.

Athletes struggle through exhausting practices to achieve for themselves, and their school, the ultimate victory. The victory itself comes from within. An athlete must delve inside himself to come up with the desire and fire of battle. The light of hope must break through the darkness of discouragement.

Through the prodding of the coaches and spectators, they run, putt, kick, lay up, spike and serve to beat the best.

Afterwards, totally spent from the battle, they sit back, review the game in their minds, and assure themselves that, individually and as a team, they gave it their all!!

HOUSE COUNCIL

College life and education at Baptist College is much more than classrooms, books, and tests. It is an educational process that extends far beyond the 14 to 16 hours per week spent in classes, with the epitome of this life being the interaction with other students.

The 1982-83 school year began with the theme — Building Together For A Brighter Tomorrow! Organizations play a vital part in the building of the lives of the students. Learning how to work in unity and cooperation to better ourselves, our campus, and our world is one of the most important learning experiences of our college education.

As we travel through our four years of college life, we are always looking forward to what lies ahead, but we realize that only by looking upward can we find the strength and peace that only God can give. The learning process of interaction with people culminates in our interaction with Him. Perhaps it is best summarized by two verses found in Philippians: "I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" (3:14), and "I can do all things through Christ Jesus who strengtheneth me" (4:13).

A lot of hard work and dedication goes into the making of an annual. Friends, faculty and staff have stood behind us, encouraging and urging us on. But no one has supported us like our sponsors and advertisers. They have truly given of themselves purely out of faith. They trusted us to represent them and their businesses in the best possible light.

Through their contributions, from the patron to the full page advertiser, we have been able to put together an annual that combines the best of the 1982-83 school year.

We would like to thank each and every one who helped us through this year. We set goals and dreamed dreams, and you helped turn them into realities.

I CARE

Sorrow is very deep.
No one can say the right words
For there are no right words.
But, listen, I care.

Sorrow is never understood.
The pains, the heartaches, the tears
That go deeper than the surface.
But, listen, I care.

Sorrow is expressed in
The only way it can be, by crying.
Crying that is full of memories.
But, listen, I care.

Sorrow is not expressed
By saying I'm sorry or don't cry.
Sorrow is only expressed in saying
I'm here. I care, and I love you.

IT'S OVER! These are the only words that can describe the year of pain and joy that came from working on the 1983 Cutlass. The year has been long and hard, but the work certainly has been rewarding. I sincerely hope that you will find this year's annual as much of a joy and memory as it has been for those of us who worked to make it such.

Thanks to Mrs. Bryant for her love and support throughout each and every situation. Thanks to a great staff for a job very well done. Thanks to you for giving me the opportunity to help produce the 1983 Cutlass. And thanks to God first and foremost for the patience and strength to endure.
